We did it again!

4 days, 67 speakers, 12 conference sessions and the "Big Tent" Industry exhibition!

The convergence of brilliant minds, the rare insights of business and regulators, the sentiments of the market, we captured them all. We saw and recorded great brands on show case; we reproduced the thrills and the absolute best of moments. Most of all, we aligned with the expectations and commitments for moving the industry forward.

We celebrate the diversity, resilience and sheer energy of the African Downstream Energy industry, and through the pages of this Picture-Book we attempt to relive the experience of OTL 2023.

"..In my end is my beginning." (TS Elliot in Four Quartets) We drew the curtains, but yet, we start again...

REGISTRATION

The Lagos Oriental Hotel opened its doors to the eager line of delegates and exhibitors at the opening day of the 17th OTL Africa Downstream Energy Conference. ARS Conference Services Ltd. was on ground to deploy the latest version of their event technology solution 'ARSHEVENTS' ensuring the seamless process of accreditation and registration. With the solution's enhanced self check-in feature, delegates could sign in with their unique codes ensuring a highly professional and hitch-free process for all on-site registrants. The process ran daily till the final day of the conference on the 26th of October, 2023.

As is the tradition, OTL doled out a range of sponsor-branded materials and souvenirs at the point of accreditation.

EXHIBITION

The OTL Africa Downstream energy week exhibition proceeded simultaneously with the conference and social sessions as a hybrid expo. Once again, this year in-person exhibitors had the option (as an added benefit) of reaching a global audience virtually.

It was a showcase of innovation, collaboration, and cutting-edge technology within the downstream energy sector. The exhibition drew in core industry players, experts, and enthusiasts alike.

The vibrant ambiance; in-person and virtual pulsated a kaleidoscope of colors reinforcing the spectrum of downstream energy brand in attendance and resonating with the theme of the 2023 expo-Energy, Synergy and New Beginnings.

EXHIBITION BOOTH INNOVATION

Exhibition Booths set-up in sleek designs filled up the halls. From renewable energy solutions to the latest advancements in oil and gas technology, each booth exuded innovation and progress. From the informative eye-catching arena of NMDPRA to the energy solutions depicted within the detailed expanse of NNPC's booth, to the interactivity of Mainland Oil, and their spin-the-wheel challenge that made every visit to their booth memorable, to the Virtual Reality Driving Sequence open to everyone at the Northwest Exhibition area, there was ample creativity and innovation on display.

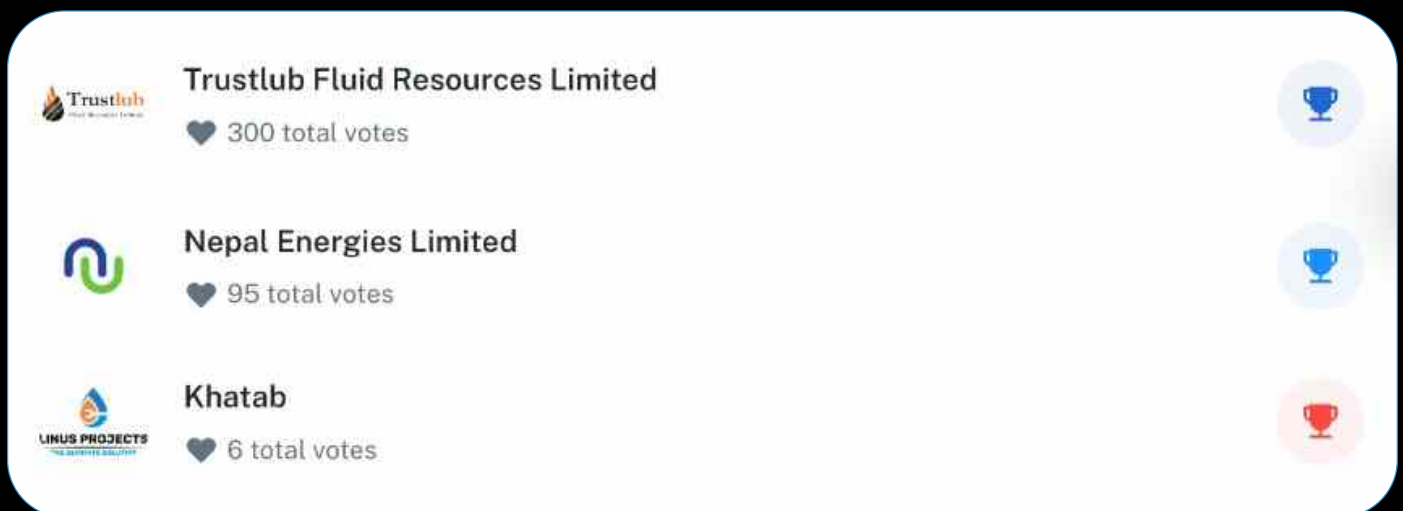

At the end of the 3rd and 4th day of the exhibition, an in-person polls conducted saw NMDPRA's exhibition booth emerging as the best in-person booth, followed by NNPC Retail.

In like manner, on the virtual event platform, votes and polls ran throughout the Downstream Energy Week and saw three top firms emerging.

Trustlub led exhibition votes and was followed by Nepal Energies in second place and Khatab in third place.

Khatab was also the most visited virtual booth as well as one of the best rated booths. While Funtay had the best set-up virtual booth.

NETWORKING

301

The OTL Africa 2023 Downstream Energy Week, a dynamic gathering of industry professionals within and outside the African Downstream Energy sector, ran its course from the 23rd to the 26th of October, at the Lagos Oriental Hotel, offering an immersive experience teeming with vibrant networking opportunities.

302

A Tapestry of Conversations:

The networking landscape at the event was a bustling marketplace of ideas and expertise. Attendees were immersed in animated discussions, their voices weaving countless threads of innovation and collaboration as conversations echoed against the backdrop of advancements in downstream energy, as industry players exchanged insights, aligned visions, and forged new partnerships.

A Canvas of Diverse Perspectives:

Seasoned veterans and emerging talents in the Downstream Energy Sector alike intermingled, their interactions painting a vivid picture of the industry's evolution. The spectrum of perspectives cut across technical nuances, policies and regulatory regimes to the intricacies of sustainable energy solutions fostering an environment ripe for idea cultivation and mutual learning.

A Symphony of Connection:

As connections were forged and relationships deepened, the networking events became a symphony of connectivity. The resonance of genuine engagement reverberated throughout, creating a harmonious atmosphere conducive to meaningful partnerships. Industry leaders shared anecdotes, mentors imparted wisdom, and peers engaged in spirited dialogue, cultivating an ecosystem of mutual support and camaraderie.

SHIP ARREST IN NIGERIA

Ship Arrest in Nigeria is a bold and pioneering guide around everything relating to ship arrests, and covers both fundamental and advanced concepts in a practical, nuanced style. Authored by maritime lawyer Dr. Emeka Akabogu, Ship Arrest in Nigeria is a wide-ranging coverage of the Nigerian admiralty jurisdiction, and unfurls an expert navigation through technical, practical and controversial aspects of this most intriguing subject that is central to international trade and commerce. In his foreword to the book, revered maritime lawyer and author, Louis Mbanefo SAN, observed – "Dr. Emeka Akabogu has made a very significant contribution by publishing the present work Ship Arrest in Nigeria. This highly scholarly and well-researched publication presents a comprehensive treatise on the subject."
